

November 28, 2009

Re: Current Economic Environment for Veterinarians in California – October

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

As we mentioned in our previous letters, our nation's economy has been struggling, and the veterinary industry, usually resilient during tough financial times, has felt this slowdown.

Given the current state of events, we thought it would be a useful service to our clients, colleagues, and friends to track how the veterinary industry is performing throughout California. The previous letters reported the results for October 2008 through September 2009. This letter looks at October 2009.

We are currently tracking monthly revenue numbers for almost one-hundred and thirty practices. We have segregated these practices into three classes: Small Animal – Southern California (up to and including Bakersfield), Small Animal – Northern California, and Specialty, Emergency & Referral.

The results are attached to this letter. We are tracking:

- How our industry performed for the first ten months of 2009, as compared to 2008.
- How our industry performed during the month of October 2009, as compared to October 2008.
- How the above numbers look after removing any price increases in 2009. This gives us the true growth/decline of these practices.

Page 2

According to our numbers, it appears that there was more slippage in October.

Small animal general practices in Southern California saw revenue drops of 2% to 5% for the month, as compared to 2008. Small animal general practices in Northern California were either flat, or saw modest declines of almost 3%.

Specialty, emergency and referral practices fared better than they have all year, reporting small revenue decreases of 1% to 4% for the month, compared to the prior year.

It appears that the results for November will be mixed. We will gather November 2009 data, and once it has been analyzed will send you the results.

The more veterinary practices that we include in our sample, the more accurate a picture we can paint of what is happening economically, so if you know of any practice owners who might like to take part, please let us know. Financial data can be submitted directly to us via our website www.gattomcferson.com. Once they have shared information, they would be added to distribution list. All information will be kept strictly confidential.

Results will also be posted on our website.

Please let us know if you have any questions or comments on the above information.

Sincerely,

Tom A. McFerson, CPA

Veterinary Practice Performance in California
October 2009

	Gross Revenues
	One Month Ended August 31, 2009	One Month Ended September 30, 2009	One Month Ended October 31, 2009	Ten Months Ended October 31, 2009
Small Animal - Southern California
Increase/(decrease) as compared to prior year	-0.17%	-3.87%	-1.98%	0.95%
Increase/(decrease) as compared to prior year - adjusted for price increases	-3.47%	-7.28%	-5.41%	-1.70%
Small Animal - Northern California
Increase/(decrease) as compared to prior year	3.94%	0.67%	0.71%	2.07%
Increase/(decrease) as compared to prior year - adjusted for price increases	0.19%	-2.79%	-2.55%	-0.65%
Specialty/Emergency - California
Increase/(decrease) as compared to prior year	-2.42%	-5.93%	-0.04%	-4.32%
Increase/(decrease) as compared to prior year - adjusted for price increases	-5.98%	-9.48%	-3.87%	-7.42%